Amusements

Mac Marsh—Enough Said.
 Mae Marsh, said by many to be the most capable actress doing screen work today, is her own pliant adorable self all through the scenes in the four-part Mutual Masterpicture, "The Outlaw's Revenge in the Dawn of a New Republic," which shows the journey of the canopied travelling wagon across the Mexican desert. Later, when that same wagon, homeward bound, is attacked by Mexican bandits led by the rascally federal captain, Miss Marsh, by superb emotional depiction, does acting by discriminating critics. "The Outlaw's Revenge in the Dawn of a New Republic" will be shown at the Cozy Theater on Tuesday and Wednesday of this (next) week.

Union Musicians Object.
 SAN FRANCISCO, May 14.—A resolution forbidding union musicians to play in parades in which church, fraternal, military, or other non-union bands participate was introduced in the convention here of the American Federation of Musicians.

Another resolution introduced provides for the reduction of the number of officers of the federation by four by eliminating the nine direct officers and electing five officers at large, who, with the general officers, would constitute the executive board of the federation. Excessive expenses were given as the reason for the proposed cut in the number of officers.

Safe Blast Profitless.
 CANYONVILLE, Ore., May 14.—Robbers who blew the safe of J. M. Gross & Son, general merchandise-demolished the store office and weakened the town, were chased away before they could loot the cash drawer after they had opened the vault with a gigantic charge of nitroglycerine.

The report of the explosion brought neighbors to the store and the men escaped in the darkness without any of the cash or valuables that were in one of the drawers of the safe. Sheriff Quino has as yet made no arrests.

Chaplain to Fight.
 QUEENSTOWN, Ireland, May 14.—The Rev. John A. Beatty, the chaplain of a Canadian regiment, whose wife and son were lost on the Lusitania, declared here that he would discard his ministerial cloth and go into the trenches against the Germans.

Mackensen's Loss 65,000.

Insurance Man Indicted.
 SANBURY, Pa., May 15.—Three counts are charged in the indictment returned here against Arthur J. Hoverter, a Lebanon life insurance agent, by the grand jury in the middle district United States court, Judge Witmer sitting. The indictment charges Hoverter with aiding and abetting Alvin Binner, suicide cashier of the First National Bank of Schaefferstown, Pa., in fraudulent misapplication of funds of the institution, aggregating $15,522.21.

It is alleged in the first count that Hoverter's check, on the Farmers' Trust company, of Lebanon, Pa., and drawn to the order of the First National bank of Schaefferstown, on January 9, 1914, was returned unpaid for lack of funds. Hoverter got the money.

Another check, dated June 1, 1914, for $1150, on the same bank as the first and drawn to the order of Binner's bank, returned for the same reason, constitutes the second count. In the third count it is charged that 25 different checks, bearing dates between November, 1913 and February 4, 1914, totalling $15,626.99 were cashed for Hoverter by Binner. All were drawn on the Farmers' Trust company, of Lebanon, Pa., and all were returned for lack of funds, according to the indictment.
